Biography

Laura Goodstone is an acclaimed Argentine singer, songwriter, and vocal coach, now thriving in the vibrant music scene of Miami, USA. With a career that spans continents, Laura has graced multiple international music festivals and reality shows with her powerful voice and magnetic presence.

Laura's musical journey began with a bang, releasing her debut album at just 20 years old. Her talent quickly gained recognition, winning a prestigious competition that catapulted her career in the United States. This success opened doors to collaborate with industry legends like Rudy Perez and Jon Secada, solidifying her reputation in the music world.

In addition to her solo career, Laura has been the lead vocalist for multiple bands, touring various stages and countries. This extensive experience on the road has enriched her performance skills and broadened her musical horizons.

Relocating to Miami marked a new chapter in Laura's career. One of her standout achievements was representing the United States at the Festival de República Dominicana with an original composition, showcasing her songwriting prowess on an international stage. Recently, she captivated audiences in the show "El Playlist de los Corazones Rotos" at Teatro Trail, performing iconic hits from Amanda Miguel, Rocío Dúrcal, Gloria Trevi, Alejandra Guzmán, and more.

As a seasoned vocal coach, Laura has lent her expertise to renowned academies, shaping the voices of many aspiring artists. Her guidance has been instrumental in helping students reach their full potential and achieve their dreams.

Currently, Laura is focused on releasing her new solo material and is also composing and producing her next set of songs in English, influenced by country music, rock, and blues. She continues to dazzle at events with her band, "The Kameleon's," delivering a high-energy, dynamic show. Their performances seamlessly blend the best of Classic Rock, 80s, 90s, and contemporary hits, creating an unforgettable experience for audiences of all ages.

Stay tuned for more powerful performances and new releases from Laura Goodstone as she continues to make waves in the music industry.
